GRAPES & RAISINS	XYLITOL	ONIONS • GARLIC • CHIVES	COOKED BONES
Potentially severe kidney injury. Keep fresh, dried and baked forms away.	Dangerous low blood sugar and possible liver injury. Check sugar-free labels.	Can damage red blood cells and cause anemia. Watch leftovers, sauces and seasoning.	Can splinter, choke, obstruct or injure the digestive tract. Never give cooked bones.

QUICK REFERENCE: OTHER FOODS TO KEEP AWAY

FOOD	WHY IT IS A PROBLEM
Chocolate	Toxic compounds can affect the nervous system and heart.
Macadamia nuts	Can cause weakness, vomiting, tremors and other signs.
Alcohol	Can cause serious poisoning and neurologic effects.
Raw yeast dough	Can expand in the stomach and produce alcohol.
Very salty foods	Excess salt can cause serious illness.

FAMILY RULE

Before sharing leftovers, desserts, gum, candy, sauces, seasoned meat or bones, check every ingredient. A food that is safe for people is not automatically safe for dogs.

IF YOUR DOG MAY HAVE EATEN A TOXIC FOOD: note what was eaten, approximately how much and when. Contact a veterinarian or animal poison-control service promptly. Do not induce vomiting unless a veterinary professional tells you to.

This chart is a quick household reference. For suspected poisoning, seek professional veterinary advice promptly.

SMART GROCERY SHOPPING

Affordable Lean Proteins + Organized Shopping Checklist

GROCERY STORE GUIDE: FINDING AFFORDABLE LEAN PROTEINS

PROTEIN	HOW TO SAVE
CHICKEN	Compare family-pack and frozen prices. Choose plain cuts; trim excess skin/fat when appropriate.
LEAN GROUND BEEF	Compare the unit price per kg/lb. Choose leaner ground meat and avoid seasoned versions.
TURKEY	Look for plain turkey breast or lean ground turkey when on sale. Avoid deli/smoked products.
FROZEN FISH	Plain frozen fillets can reduce waste. Choose boneless fish without sauces or seasoning.
SARDINES	Plain, water-packed sardines can be convenient. Check labels and watch for added salt.
EGGS	Often economical and versatile. Cook thoroughly and use as part of the overall feeding plan.
